In 1992, ABWE established a policy whereby all missionary candidates would be asked about their moral development history.

From the beginning of time, Satan has used sensual and sexual temptation to disrupt the work of God and defeat His chosen workers. The book of Genesis provides ample evidence of his evil, sadistic warfare strategy including incidents of rape, incest, lust, homosexuality, fornication, and sexual perversion.

Our culture has experienced an exponential saturation of sensual and sexual temptations and the technology to make it instantly available. We are aware that there is no hiding place from the well-orchestrated saturation of sensual temptation. Temptations are not avoidable. What is critical to success in ministry and missions is complete and authentic freedom from intentional patterns of immoral thoughts and behaviours.

ABWE needs your complete, honest, and open responses to these questions. We are aware that this is sensitive information and want you to know that we will keep this information confidential. Only those vital to the screening process will have access to the information. Please keep in mind that this survey will allow you to acknowledge past moral failure and to convincingly declare that you are not now being manipulated and intimidated by sensual and sexual desire. ABWE wishes to provide some level of assurance that approved candidates have dealt with past moral issues significantly such that their current ministries are not hindered.

Please complete the following questionnaire. For affirmative (YES) replies, on a separate piece of paper, please provide an explanation including how you have biblically dealt with this issue. If you have further questions about this, please feel free to contact ABWE Canada president.
